(By Associated Press)
London, Feb. 8.—Sir Albert Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, announced at 2.30 o'clock this morning that an arrangement with union executives had been reached and that railway service would be resumed as soon as possible. The announcement followed a long conference in which government officials discussed the situation with the executives of the National Union of Railway Men and representatives of the management of the underground railway. Acting Secretary Hudson of the Union subsequently declared that he was satisfied with the agreement. He said he expected that tube trains would be running normally at noon.

GERMANS ELECT PRES. OF ASSEMBLY

(By Associated Press)
Weimar, Feb. 8.—Carl Kautsky, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the Ebert cabinet, was today elected President of the German National Assembly by a vote of 374 out of 399 cast by the Assembly. The composition of the cabinet appears to be the principal problem. The original proposition was to form a ministry composed of 7 majority Socialists, 4 Centerists and 4 Democrats. The majority Socialists contend that they ought to be certain of having a majority which the Independent Socialists cannot disturb.

MISSING LIST NOW PLACED AT 7783

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 8.—Last week's casualty reports showing more than 10,000 men of the expeditionary forces missing, has been corrected making the total 7783, Gen. March said today. Gen. Pershing has reported now to the War Department that the figures were being reduced by from 100 to 200 per day as a result of checking of records. Gen. Pershing gave the War Department new totals of casualties in the First and Second Divisions, the latter including the Marine Brigade. The First Division had a total of 5213, the second Division a total of 5260.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 8.—Interest in the general strike of 55,000 workers was centered early today in the reported announcement of Mayor Ole Hanson that unless the sympathetic strike called February 6th to aid 25,000 striking shipyard workers was called off this morning, he would proceed to operate all essential industries under protection. This protection would be extended to include martial law should such a measure become necessary, he said.

At eight o'clock this morning no action had been taken by the strike committee representing 55,000 striking workers. Mayor Hanson's announcement that unless the sympathetic strike was called off by 8 a. m. he would take steps to operate all essential industries under federal protection. STRIKE MAY GO TO STATE LABOR BOARD

(By Associated Press)
Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 8.—The Arlington mills in the vicinity of which a number of strikers and sympathizers have been arrested during the past few days were closed today and several of the other large textile plants operated only part of the day, in accordance with the plan to reduce the working time to a 48-hour week. As a consequence there were few persons on the streets and morning disturbances were missing. Mill agents said today that they expected increased working forces next week. Those plants which have remained open throughout the strike generally have operated with 50 to 60 per cent of their normal forces, according to the agents. Charles G. Wood, of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, conferred with strike leaders here last night. As a result it is expected that a sub-committee representing the general strike committee will be delegated to lay the grievances of the strikers before the State Board next week.

POLICE MUST KEEP MOVING ON BEATS

Boston, Feb. 8.—Boston's police officers must keep on the move when on their tours of duty, they were informed by Commissioner Edwin U. Curtis in an order sent out last night. No more can they "wait for the sergeant" at certain places, as has been customary.

The same order also reminds the sergeants that it is their duty and it must be strictly lived up to, to locate the patrolmen on their divisions when they are on the street. Somewhere along the route they have to get in personal touch with the officers, but this must be done without making appointments with them. If the sergeants don't find the officers they must make a note of such an occurrence.

Police Commissioner Curtis' order is believed to be one of the results of tours of inspection he has been making in the various divisions since he assumed his office.

It is believed the commissioner must have found some of the men on fixed posts on their routes, and when inquiries were made about their comparatively inactivity he was apparently informed they were "waiting for the sergeant to show up."

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN CUTTING SHOE EXPENSE

"Many months of comfort at little expense" is the way Charles A. Pearson of San Diego, California, sums up his experience with Neolin Soles. Mr. Pearson had two pairs of shoes repaired with Neolin Soles, and after wearing them for twenty months writes: "I will have to get new shoes sometime, but so far, the soles are concerned, that time seems as far distant as when they were new."

This is typical of the experience millions are having with Neolin Soles. Created by Science to be durable, flexible and waterproof, these soles are an important factor in cutting shoe expense. You can get them on new shoes for the whole family, and for resoling. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

ABANDON PLAN TO BILLET 26TH IN BOSTON

Because it was considered impracticable, Gen. Clarence D. Edwards has abandoned the plan of billeting the heroes of the 26th Division in Greater Boston.

Instead, when the Yankee Division—Gen. Edwards' old command—debarks at Commonwealth Pier the men will immediately embark for Camp Devens and there submit to the detaining process.

Under the plan suggested the men of the 26th will retain their guns, mess gear and other equipment which they were aboard, instead of surrendering them at Camp Devens. Thus, should the Yankee Division participate in a parade through Boston, citizens would be given an idea of how they appeared in France. Gen. Edwards yesterday approved the suggestion that units parade in their home towns as well as in Boston, and will do all such plans.

In giving up the plan to billet the 26th Division in Boston, Gen. Edwards explained that owing to the rigid quarantine requirements, and the fears that disease might gain entry into the United States with the returning soldiers, especially through "cottons," certain precautions cannot be waived. Gen. Edwards insisted that the public be fully protected.

Col. Thomas J. Griffiths, chairman of Camp, Edwards and Buckman at West Point, who has been named as Gen. Edwards' personal representative in all matters concerning the demobilization of soldiers at Boston, yesterday completed an investigation of the facilities here. The capacity of the new detaining plant being built at Hingham was found not sufficient to accommodate the 26th. It will care for about 100 men an hour, so that it would require days to complete the work for the entire division.

In order that nothing should be left undone to have the 26th Division demobilized at Boston, Gov. Coolidge and Mayor Peters each sent telegrams to Gen. Edwards yesterday, requesting that the War Department direct that the Yankee Division demobilize here.

The Legislative committee appointed to welcome returning soldiers and sailors held its first meeting yesterday and voted "to ask the citizens' committee appointed by the Governor, of which Louis A. Coolidge is chairman, to meet with the Legislative committee next Monday to arrange for work in conjunction."

Washington, Feb. 7.—Secretary of War Baker's alleged "justification, excuse and defense" of Regular Army officers in their neglect to enforce sanitary conditions at some of the rest and demobilization camps of France was the subject of a brief but intense debate in the Senate today which were voiced by several senators of the Democratic side and evoked a reply from Lewis of Illinois for the administration, were aroused by a telegram from John J. Bush, president of the Middleman Society of New York, read by Senator Lodge.

Guard house full of men who violated minor rules. At one-tenth of what returning men say is true, place is hell hole and disgrace to Army and to United States. Boys call it 'Camp Agony.' Urges investigation at once that will assure country something more than a whitewash."

matter be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs. Lewis of Illinois asked if the Senator would amend by requesting that a copy be sent to the Secretary of War. The Massachusetts senator, with a touch of disgust in his tone, replied that he had no objection to a copy being sent to Mr. Baker, but it would be useless.

"I appeal to the committee for an investigation because I hope and believe it will make one. I have seen so much whitewashing by the War Department that I am tired of it."

Senator New of Indiana reminded the Senate that, on Jan. 2, he had offered a resolution calling for an investigation of conditions at Brest, and Democratic senators had objected on the ground that investigation should and would be made by the Secretary of War. Since that time no communication has come, either to the Senate or the public, except a telegram from General Harbord, stating that while conditions were bad they were improving. The senator then put into the record a story in the New York Evening Telegram of conditions at Brest from an officer of high rank, who had left Brest on Jan. 17.

BENCH AND BAR CHEER LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Boston, Feb. 8.—More than 500 members of the Bench and Bar of Massachusetts cheered and applauded the League of Free Nations at a meeting and dinner in the Boston City Club Thursday evening; or at least they cheered and applauded the eminent speakers who most forcefully expressed themselves in favor of the league.

These included Ex-President William Howard Taft, Justice John H. Clarke of the Supreme Court of the United States, Justice William C. Lorain of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, Ex-Ambassador James W. Gerard and Justice George W. Anderson of the United States District Court.

Ex-President Taft will not soon forget the reception he got when he first arrived at the dinner, and later when he returned from Tremont Temple, where he also spoke. And he was cheered during his absence, because all of the other speakers referred to his year work in superlative terms, and more especially to his great work in behalf of the League of Free Nations. He never got any more sincere and enthusiastic welcome anywhere.

It was a notable gathering. It was one of the evening ideas of the Congress for a League of Nations, and practically all of the judges of the Massachusetts Courts were present, as were the principal members of the bar—and a few other prominent citizens as guests.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS AND LOSES AT AMESBURY

The two basket ball teams from the High school played the Amesbury High at Amesbury on Friday afternoon. The boys team were defeated in a fast and exciting game by a score of 19 to 16, but the girls team defeated the Amesbury team by a score of 14 to 8.

The locals were without Kikpatrick; they star forward and on a strange and much larger floor, but they gave the Amesbury a good battle. They were bothered also by the fact that the referee, a "professional" basket ball player was constantly confusing the rules, professional and amateur.

The girls played a fast game and at all times had the Amesbury team under control, but it was fast and with very little scoring.

RAISE SPECTRE OF NEW BIG WAR

Berlin, Feb. 7. (By the Associated Press)—If the allies persist in imposing on Germany demands which will make that country the "wage slave" of its enemies, the allies must keep Germany in subjection for decades by armed force, against which the Germans would rise at an opportune moment and again plunge the world into war. Prof. Hans Delbrueck, historian and publicist, declared to a correspondent today during a discussion of the Paris peace conference.

"The question of what constitutes a peace of justice can best be answered by investigating the last separate demand made, to see whether it is calculated to light the fires of war again at some future day or whether it serves the ideal of an enduring peace."

"Let me single out some of these questions. It is proposed to impose upon Germany a burden which it cannot throw off in a short time, but which would make the country the wage slave of its enemies for decades."

This could be carried only if Germany were to be kept subdued by armed force all that time. But there cannot be any doubt that Germany would rise again such slavery of the first opportunity and the world would again be plunged into war.

"Another example: France plainly indicated that it intends to take away the German territory of Saarbrücken, with its coal field. Saarbrücken has more than half a million purely German inhabitants. This territory was ceded to France through the first Paris peace of 1811 but only a year later was given back to Germany in the second Paris peace. The inhabitants had unanimously in repeated appeals and petitions, especially in a great memorial, prayed for liberation from the French yoke and reunion with the German fatherland, and have solemnly vowed to do everything they could to serve this end. This land belonged to Germany for a thousand years, except the very brief temporary periods of French domination."

"The problem of nationality is much clearer and more certain here than in Alsace-Lorraine. Even if the German portions of Alsace-Lorraine are given to France, it can safely be prophesied that a German 'irredenta' will spring up there very soon and threaten the peace of the world. This is true in a still greater degree in the case where territory like Saarbrücken where nothing whatever that is French exists, is claimed by France out of naked greed for power in opposition to the principle of the people's right to self-determination."

"A third example: The French did not occupy the territory given them by the armistice with native Frenchmen, but for the greater part with colored Allies. These Negroes are billeted on the citizens. As long as this war lasts we must endure this, terrible as it is for the inhabitants."

NO DROP OF COAL PRICES LIKELY

The drop of a dollar a ton on coal in Boston is not likely to be followed by a drop outside of Boston, where there is a run on between two companies. The coal dealers claim that there is small chance of any drop before summer at best. In the first place the coal rate at the mines is the same the government fixed last fall and the freight rates are the highest in the history of the coal trade, and a war tax on top of that.

A coal dealer said that he received a cargo of coal this week and paid the highest freight rate he had ever paid $4.75 a ton. This was all rail coal. The freight rate to this city is 50 cents a ton more than it is to Boston.

"The freight rate is higher and so is the price of coal. For many years, the rate from New York to this city by company barges is $3.10 a ton with a war tax of 13 cents a ton and the rail rate from the mine to tide water $1.85 more, making a total of $4.95 per ton by water. Add to this the cost of handling with the present high wages and all this on top of the high price at the mines, makes the outlook for cheap coal very poor."

An agent for one of the big soft coal companies here on Friday, in discussing the coal situation said that he could not see where there would be any drop. His company was making only 8 cents a ton from the cost of getting out the coal and the price that the government had set for it to be sold at the mines. Many of the small mines have closed down owing to the fact that they were not making any money and all of the big mines are refusing to store coal.

In addition the sale of coal has fallen off badly and there is more than will be used this winter. The extremely mild winter has had of course much to do with it and then there was a great curtailment of coal in the fall.

MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE VISIT N H COLLEGE

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Feb. 7.—About 50 members of the state legislature, representing two committees of the House and the state Senate, visited New Hampshire college today on an advance trip ahead of the entire legislature which is due to arrive a week from today.

The visitors included the committee on the Agricultural College, members of which reached Durham on the morning train and the Public Improvements Committee members of which came here by automobile from Portsmouth where they had been to inspect the site of the proposed toll bridge from Portsmouth to Kittery. The Public Improvements Committee members did not get to Durham until one o'clock and though they made a tour of the grounds and buildings late in the afternoon did not arrive in time to attend exercises in the gymnasium. Members of both committees were escorted over the grounds in groups, each provided with a guide, and both were entertained at luncheon in the rooms of the home economics department, the most having been prepared by the young women of that department and served under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Smith, the entire distribution.

After luncheon the members who had arrived in time went to a special convention of students at the gymnasium and several of the visitors addressed the students. President Herold, who presided, introduced that Representative Dockham, chairman of the committee on the Agricultural College, who explained that this was his first trip to Durham; that he was already convinced of the importance of the state of this institution and pledged himself to assist in every way possible to further its claims for consideration before the legislature.

Members of both committees were escorted over the grounds in groups, each provided with a guide, and both were entertained at luncheon in the rooms of the home economics department, the most having been prepared by the young women of that department and served under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Smith, the entire distribution.

After luncheon the members who had arrived in time went to a special convention of students at the gymnasium and several of the visitors addressed the students. President Herold, who presided, introduced that Representative Dockham, chairman of the committee on the Agricultural College, who explained that this was his first trip to Durham; that he was already convinced of the importance of the state of this institution and pledged himself to assist in every way possible to further its claims for consideration before the legislature.

MOVEMENT TO HAVE YARD EMPLOYEES
RUN RESTAURANT

Organized Labor Said to Be Ready to Try It Out.

It is reported in labor circles and about the navy yard, that organized labor is interesting itself in a movement which would lead to the control of the navy yard restaurant by the yard employees. It is understood that this matter has or will be brought to the attention of the navy department at Washington.

In other navy yards this plan has been tried out and the labor heads claim it has met with much success. There are some that the cost of food will be reduced and that the working conditions are well catered.

Whether or not such a plan would be through at the Portsmouth navy yard is a question and as yet nobody will say what the outcome of such a movement will be.

BUT IT PAYS TO WALK

Never in the history of Portsmouth have you had the opportunity to purchase the very finest footwear at such appreciable savings. Quality and economy combine to make these values extremely attractive to the careful buyer. There is no probability of the lowering of shoe prices for the next six months. There is a shortage of imported calfskin and kid, due to a 50 per cent falling off of imports in 1918. The world's supply has been greatly depleted by the war.

FAREWELL BALL OF MINE LAYER
ROANOKE

Brilliant Event Scheduled for Tuesday Evening at Freeman's Hall.

The officers and men of the mine layer Roanoke, now at the navy yard, are planning a farewell ball to take place next Tuesday at Freeman's hall. Marden's Orchestra will furnish the music.

The enlisted personnel on the Roanoke are men that mostly signed for the duration of the war and are now being released to civil life as expeditiously as possible.

The Roanoke, which is the largest minelayer in the world, had some of the liveliest adventures of any ship in the United States navy. Going ashore in a light fog, off the coast of Scotland, lost in a mine field in a thick fog, battles with tin snappers, when the slightest shock would have exploded more high explosives on the Roanoke than caused the Halifax disaster, all led up to the last thrill coming home when the Roanoke was in a collision in mid ocean. At this time the ship had aboard twelve air mine bombs of P. M. T. (high explosive) than was exploded at Halifax.

Life was nothing but a daily gamble with these intrepid men, and the service they rendered did much toward stopping the "tin fish."

Commander Hensch with other officials of the navy yard will be guests of the Roanoke and one of the best times of the year is promised to those attending the farewell ball.

The committee in charge of arrangements are Captain Richard J. Davis, Chief Petty Officers Brecht, Jackson, Herberich, Weg and Barr.

The decorations will all be furnished by the ship and the refreshments will be served by a local caterer.

PRISONER RAN AWAY AFTER THE COURT

Slips Out of Rooms Among the Witnesses.

Arthur Forener, from the Atlantic shipyard, was in the municipal court this morning for the breach of an agreement from another workman. He was found guilty and placed under bonds of $200 for the superior court.

Just as the court concluded the court officer was called to a side room for a minutes and Forener slipped down stairs unnoticed among the witnesses in the case and out the door of City hall. One of the Atlantic police and two of the witnesses thought he was going to the police room and did not notice him much until they saw him run through the corridor and out the door. They gave him a chase but he managed to get away from them in the South End.

WILL PRESENT
PORTRAIT OF LATE
LIEUT. FRANK BOOMA

Class of '11, P. H. S., Honor: Deceased President.

In memory of the late Lieut. Frank Booma, U. S. A., the class of 1911 Portsmouth High School, is to present a framed portrait to the school of the young officer, who gave his life for his country.

The picture is from the St. Clark studio, and is an 18x24 sepia crayon portrait in a walnut frame. A plate will be placed on the frame with the name of the young officer and the date of his death.

Lieutenant Booma was president of the P. H. S. class of 1911 and one of its most popular members. He was prominent in athletics, captain of the school football team, and captain of the basketball team.

Lieutenant Booma was killed in action on July 11 in France and the news of his death brought much sorrow to all who knew the young man in his home city where he was loved and honored by his associates. He was filled with an ambitious spirit and this was noticeable when he attended the high school where he was a central figure in school activities.

He was a student at New Hampshire College when war was declared and was one of the first to enter the service. He went for training to Plattsburg and later was selected as one of a small group to go to France for training. He went into the service with a high purpose. Beloved by the community he died the noblest death man can die.

The portrait will be on exhibition in the window of a local store next week for a few days before it is placed on the walls of the High School building.

L. O. O. F. M. members will please bring ticket stubs and all unpaid tickets to Moose hall, for settlement tonight.

Per Order CARNIVAL COMMITTEE.
